Profile

While unique challenges face each industry, people are at the heart of every business - from the individuals who contribute to our success, to the community we shape along the way, and the legacy we leave behind.

As the legal landscape is constantly evolving, Sarah recognizes the difficulties individuals and businesses face as they navigate change and plan for the future.

With a practice dedicated to supporting our lawyers with corporate reorganizations, purchase and sale of businesses, and tax, estate, trust and charity services, Sarah works closely with our clients and their professional advisors to achieve a client's vision and intent for the future.

Sarah finds joy in getting to know our clients, learning their views and perspectives, and supporting them as they grow and contribute to the community.
