Profile

Adrienne helps our team assist clients with both the sale and acquisition of privately owned companies in a range of industries. Our clients benefit from Adrienne's legal expertise and first-hand business experience working and studying around the world.

Prior to law school, Adrienne completed her Master's degree in Business Administration in Austria, and took the opportunity to complete a semester in Taiwan. Upon her return to Canada, she held roles in the construction and food manufacturing industries. These experiences equip Adrienne with an understanding of how business is done in different industries, countries, and cultures.

Adrienne was drawn to this particular field of law by the opportunity to help business owners achieve the next step of their journey, whether that is to exit their company and execute a succession plan or continue their company's growth.

Building meaningful connections is an important part of Adrienne's practice. She understands that our clients' businesses often represent their lives' work, so she prioritizes a tailored approach with open communication to honour the trust placed in our team.
