My summer at Clark Wilson has been incredible. The firm is very welcoming and provides such great support and mentorship. The lawyers, paralegals, legal assistants, and other students are more than generous with their time and are always happy to teach. I was given the opportunity to attend hearings, join client meetings, and do legal research and writing. There are always opportunities to get involved in the work that you're interested in. I look forward to returning to Clark Wilson for my articles, where I can continue learning and contributing to the team.
